

“New Tools for Family Physicians” Project
Advisory Group
Contact Information

1. Elizabeth Steiner, M.D. steinere@ohsu.edu
OHSU research faculty with a primary interest in breast cancer screening and detection and the genetics of that diagnosis.
2. Johanna Warren, M.D. warrejoh@ohsu.edu
A resident physician who has served on the ethics committee at Northwestern while in medical school and before that in college.
3. Kar-Yee Wu, M.D. wuka@ohsu.edu
A new OHSU faculty member at the Scappoose Clinic.
4. Valerie King, M.D. kingv@ohsu.edu
A new OHSU faculty member, formerly at North Carolina where she served on the UNC Hospitals Ethics Committee and as a member of the North Carolina Medical Society’s Bioethics committee. She is interested in prenatal/antenatal testing and screening issues.
5. Jen Lochner, M.D. lochnerj@ohsu.edu
A new OHSU faculty member with a background as a philosophy major.
6. Elissa Palmer, M.D. epalmer@altoonafp.org
A Fellow of the American Academy of Family Practice, Director, Residency Program; Women’s Health and Wellness; and Pregnancy Care Center at Altoona (California) Hospital. She is also a member-at-large of the National Association of Family Practice Program Directors.
7. May Wang, M.D. wangmay@ohsu.edu
A 3rd year resident at OHSU with interest in genetics.
8. Sumathi (“Chummi”) Devarajan, M.D. devaraja@ohsu.edu
A new OHSU faculty fellow in geriatrics.
9. Karen Kovak, M.S. kovakk@ohsu.edu
CDRC genetic counselor with special interest in Huntington Disease and preimplantation genetic diagnosis.
10. Lisa Dodson, M.D. dodsonli@ohsu.edu
Deputy Director, Area Health Education Center, Assistant professor, Department of Family Medicine, Chair, Commission on Education, Oregon Academy of Family Medicine.
11. Heather Angell, M.A. (English) hangell@earthlink.net
Professional Copyeditor (Grove/atlantic Inc., New York) and former Senior Research Assistant/Education Coordinator, Department of Neurology, OHSU.

